The Zentrum für Astronomie & Astrophysik organizes a one-day colloquium, May 3 2002, at the occasion of Erwin Sedlmayr’s 60th Birthday. The program will split into a scientific and a celebration part. During the day, invited scientific talks will be given at the Technische Universität Berlin concerning the broad topic of “Cosmic Dust”. In the evening, a broader meeting is intended enriched by a philosophical talk at the Forum Guardini.

We would like to know as soon as possible how many guest we could expect. Therefore, please send us an email (chris@astro.physik.tu-berlin.de) if you plan to attend Erwin Sedlmayr’s birthday colloquium. We would like to ask the guests to take care for their hotel reservation but we will of course help with a list of hotels on the www-page of the colloquium (http://www-astro.physik.tu-berlin.de/Signal). The www-page will also contain some travel and location informations and the latest version of the program.
